

Senior Production Manager (FT)
Hamburg / Berlin

about us

Beets & Roots is a new fast casual concept from Berlin. Founded in 2016 by Michelin Star Chef Andreas Tuffentsammer and former Quandoo Manager Max Kochen, Beets & Roots offers freshly prepared bowls, salads, wraps and soups. Every dish is assembled in front of the customer to guarantee freshness and transparency. As a company, we aim to create a truly unique restaurant experience for the customer with industry-leading service and state-of-the-art interior design. We believe that we can only achieve the above by hiring people that share our vision of bringing fast casual in Germany to the next level.

about the role

As Team Lead - Kitchen, you are working closely with the Restaurant Manager in managing the daily production. This involves the planning and cooking of all bowls, salads, wraps and soups for the day, as well as any additional caterings or delivery jobs. After production, you will ensure that the Food Bar is stocked for the next shift and that all personnel are smoothly working their stations. We further expect the following tasks from you

- Management of team members in the kitchen
- Management of inventory (dry and fresh)
- Control of incoming products and collaboration with suppliers
- Assisting in re-stocking and long-term ordering plans
- Management of kitchen hygiene and cleaning personnel

your profile

- Fully-trained chef
- 2-4 years experience in hospitality (ideally – catering and large scale productions)
- Hands-on mentality and problem-solving ability
- Strong organisation as well as a tidy and resourceful working attitude
- Team-player with strong communication skills
- Basic/Intermediate English skills

our offer to you

- Young and dynamic team with great emphasis on teamwork and culture
- Exceptional working hours with little to none late shifts
- Exciting, fresh and modern cuisine with high quality products
- Bright and clean working environment in the heart of Berlin
- Promising and clear career possibilities
